

Flowers for Algernon

Algernon is getting old by this point, but he still has the energy left in him for one last adventure. He wants to visit his cousin but can't remember where he lives. Can you help Algernon on his journey? He thinks his cousin's location is somehow encoded in the mysterious pictures below. He'll need some food along the way too, so make sure you take note of any you can find.

Oh almost forgot the gift! But as Algernon writes the card, he can't remember for the life of him -

"What was that rascal's name again?"
